

Christ Consciousness and Geobiology

An innovative method to dissolve pathogenic pathological disturbances

This article is the result of an encounter between Are Thoresen - a doctor of veterinary medicine, who studied also homeopathy, acupuncture, osteopathy and agriculture – and Marc Hild - a computer scientist who has also studied microelectronics, the effects of artificial electromagnetic waves on living beings and geobiology. The understanding of the forces of good and evil brought by Rudolf Steiner through Anthroposophy is known to both.

It should be underlined that Are has developed a “head” or solar clairvoyance. He "sees" the subtle worlds closest to matter, the elemental realms as well as the etheric world. He thus sees angelic beings, demons and spirits of the nature. Are is the author of several books evoking his research on the subject. As for Marc, he practiced the Christi teaching of Pierre Lassalle for more than 25 years. He is not clairvoyant but uses thinking in the etheric body in conjunction with the opening of the spiritual heart to "listen" and have understandings of what happens beyond the appearance.

Being a doctor, Are has developed since 2014 a new method to cure diseases in animals and humans which he calls "Treating the Middle Point with Christ Consciousness".

He developed this method after watching for 20 years that diseases got translocated instead of being transformed, and realizing that such a translocating method was not moral.

Eastern therapists have been knowing this for centuries (as well as westerns as they actually learn in their schools to stop diseases from jumping over to themselves, not considering that they can also jump to others), it is written in the old books and most alternative therapies are based on the fact that when being treated, diseases, as they are pathological information, are translocated to other places in the body or when they “leave” to other beings, both animals and humans.

After 20 years of searching, Are found that in treating the middle-point of the pathological information, imbuing this area, which he found void, with a Christ consciousness, he was able to induce a transformation of the disease.

Christ, that is the “Son of God”, is everywhere; in us and around us. He is therefore to be found in man, animal, plant, earth, food ... even in each body cell, but also in everything created by humans, even if these things have harmful effects, such as devices emitting artificial electromagnetic waves for example. Thus, it is possible to treat the Middle Point of a mobile phone, a computer, a 4G/5G antenna, but also the telluric lines like Hartmann and Curry. This is of interest to the sincere geobiologist whose job is to lessen or even eliminate pathogenic nuisances on a property, in a farm or in a home.

A verification carried out by Marc with the H3 Lecher antenna in Switzerland in the presence of Are showed that the pathogenic or harmful aspect of the Hartmann and Curry lines disappeared after treatment of the Middle Point with Christ Consciousness. The correction was fast and spread within a few hours to several kilometres from the point of correction.

Those results had to be validated by a fellow geobiologist. This was done some time later at the home of the president of the French Federation of Geobiology who had just moved into a house that had not yet been "cleaned" by him.

This is the experience that has been conducted on site.

"First of all, we started to "mark" the Hartmann network on the lawn in front of the house highlighting two or three crossings. This was done with L shaped wands and a H3 Lecher antenna. We did the same on the grassy area behind the house, since we wanted to check also the propagation of the "correction".

The Hartmann network was unusually distorted around the house. Its crossings were all measured with a pendulum at 100% nuisance.

Then the Middle Point of a Hartmann crossing in front of the house was treated with Christ consciousness as learned with Are. Following this, the pathogenic aspect of the network was no longer detected, neither with the bent wands, nor with the Lecher antenna. The nuisance rate went down immediately to 50%, a few minutes later to 30%, then 20%. The result was identical behind the house, so the correction spread well.

We took a break, discussed the experience and then took measurements inside the house, especially in the dining room on the ground floor. There we detected a "return" of bad Hartmann lines. Outside, on the crossings, the nuisance had risen back to almost 50%.

Why that?

Some thinking, listening, feeling, detection with the pendulum and the Lecher antenna made us understand that there were 2 tormented human souls attached to the house for a long time. Their sufferings had impregnated certain spaces of the house and had re-contaminated the Hartmann network. This observation showed that telluric nuisances are linked to the deeds of humans.

A good solution would have been to make a Pardon to free these souls. To do that we needed to know a least a bit of the history of the house and their inhabitants. Unfortunately, we did not have any clue about the story. So, it had to be done differently. We asked for, and received permission to treat the Middle Point of the house as a whole. The idea was to have these two souls position themselves on the Middle Point before the treatment with Christ consciousness so that they could be released into His Light.

After the process, which was carried out behind the house as one could see the entire facade and roof, the relief was noticeable. The house seemed to let go all its tensions, a certain hardness, everything became calm and more luminous.

The atmosphere inside the house had changed noticeably. Obviously Are's method was working. The pendulum and Lecher antenna showed measures that skyrocketed by a few thousand Bovis units in the dining room.

Outside, on the Hartmann crosses, the levels of nuisance had fallen to 5%.

We then treated the Curry network in a similar way. The nuisance rate on the Curry point was measured at 40% before treatment and 5% after. At last, the nuisance rate on all crosses, Hartmann or Curry, showed 5%."

In conclusion, we can say that the technique developed by Are Thoresen is perfectly adapted to geobiology because it:

- Allows to reduce the nuisance of a telluric network.
- Transform it for miles (how many, we don't know).
- Free wandering souls.

Man is above all a spiritual being who evolves between two great lines of forces, Lucifer and Ahriman. We need these two in order to experience freedom and self-consciousness in incarnation. But the human being must take care that the two torments do not gain too much power. To do this, he must be present in consciousness, dwell in his centre, in his spiritual heart. The treatment of the Middle Point with Christ consciousness brings Christ in the centre and separates the two adversaries, which weakens their influence on oneself and on our surroundings.

It is a method of great morality that allows death to regress in favour of life.

It is a method of the Future which is worth knowing because it is directly linked to the return of the Christ in the etheric world, the most important event of the last 100 years.
